Lake Geneva, WI - (December 18, 2019) -- Nei-Turner Media Group, Inc., a publishing and events company, announces the addition of ChicagoStyle Weddings magazine to its portfolio of publications. Nei-Turner currently owns The Celebration Society Weddings and Parties magazines in the Chicago area and will be combining the wedding publications under one umbrella of ChicagoStyle Weddings.

By combining forces, the magazine will have increased customer service resources, as well as local editors and sales directors. The newly combined ChicagoStyle Weddings will be the only locally sourced magazine in the marketplace. "We are thrilled to be a part of Nei-Turner Media Group and The Celebration Society," said Kelly Broz, former owner of ChicagoStyle Weddings, and now Sales Manager with Nei-Turner. "This merger gives us more opportunity to grow and will provide additional marketing resources for our clients' business success."

Clients and engaged couples alike will benefit from this powerful partnership, as ChicagoStyle Weddings will retain the style and sophistication that readers and advertisers have come to know and expect from the publication. ChicagoStyle Weddings will continue to reach engaged couples through availability on newsstands, at bridal shows and events and at local venues and vendors.

"We are excited to combine forces in the Chicago area and be the only locally produced wedding magazine for the region," stated Barb Krause, Publisher of Nei-Turner Media Group, Inc. "We will be able to offer increased circulation and a stronger digital presence, which will help our clients reach even more Chicagoans."
